Q 3.2.1	What is GAAP?	60
Q 3.2.2	How does the valuation law incorporate GAAP?	60
Q 3.2.3	What are the sources of GAAP?	61
Q 3.2.4	How is it determined which GAAP methods apply to a particular import transaction?	61
Q 3.2.5	May the source of GAAP figures used for valuation be parties other than the importer?	62
Transaction Value in General		62
Q 3.3	What is “transaction value”?.....	62
Q 3.3.1	To which “sale” in a multi-party transaction does transaction value apply?	63
Q 3.3.2	What does “the price actually paid or payable” mean?	63
Q 3.3.3	Are all negotiated prices acceptable for transaction value?	64
Additions to Transaction Value		65
Q 3.4	What are the statutory additions to the price paid or payable to determine transaction value?	65
Packing Costs		66
Q 3.4.1	What “packing costs” must be added to the price paid or payable?.....	66
Selling Commissions		66
Q 3.4.2	What “commissions” must be added to the price paid or payable?.....	66
Assists		67
Q 3.4.3	What is an “assist”?.....	67
Q 3.4.4	What is the rationale for adding an “assist” to the price of imported merchandise?	67

Q 3.4.5	How is the value of an assist determined?.....	68
Q 3.4.6	How is the value of an assist added to the value of imported merchandise?	69
Royalty/License Fees		70
Q 3.4.7	What royalty or license fees must be added to the price paid or payable?	70
Subsequent Proceeds		70
Q 3.4.8	What subsequent proceeds must be added to the price paid or payable?	70
Exclusions from Transaction Value		71
Q 3.5	What costs or charges are excluded from transaction value?	71
Q 3.5.1	What statutory exclusions from transaction value are contained in the statutory definition of “price actually paid or payable”?	71
Q 3.5.2	What international transportation charges are excluded from transaction value?	72
Q 3.5.3	What charges can be excluded from transaction value as costs of “related services incident to the international shipment of the merchandise”?	72
Q 3.5.4	Are any other costs or charges excluded from transaction value?	73
Limitations on the Use of Transaction Value		73
Q 3.6	Under what conditions is transaction value not acceptable for valuation of imported merchandise?	73
Q 3.6.1	What restrictions on the buyer’s disposition or use of the imported merchandise disqualify transaction value as the basis for valuation?	74
Q 3.6.2	What other conditions disqualify transaction value as the basis for valuation?	75
Q 3.6.3	When will the price paid or payable not be adjusted by proceeds of a subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the merchandise to determine transaction value?	75
Related Parties and Transaction Value		76
Q 3.7	Why are there special rules relating to valuation of imported merchandise when the buyer is related to the seller?	76
Q 3.7.1	For purposes of transaction value, when is a buyer or importer of imported merchandise “related” to the seller?	77

Table of Contents

Q 3.7.2	Is transaction value acceptable if the buyer and seller are “related” as defined in the statute?	77
Q 3.7.3	How can the importer demonstrate that “the relationship did not influence the price paid or payable”?	78
Q 3.7.4	What is the standard for determining whether transaction value “closely approximates” one of the two applicable “test values”?.....	79
Transaction Value of Identical Merchandise		79
Q 3.8	What is “transaction value of identical merchandise”?.....	79
Q 3.8.1	What is “identical merchandise”?	79
Q 3.8.2	Can any sale be used to determine the transaction value of identical merchandise?.....	80
Q 3.8.3	What if there is more than one transaction value of identical merchandise?.....	81
Transaction Value of Similar Merchandise		81
Q 3.9	What is “transaction value of similar merchandise”?.....	81
Q 3.9.1	What is “similar merchandise”?	81
Q 3.9.2	What factors determine whether merchandise is “similar”?	82
Q 3.9.3	Can any sale be used to determine the transaction value of similar merchandise?.....	82
Q 3.9.4	What if there is more than one transaction value of similar merchandise?.....	83
Deductive Value		83
Q 3.10	What is “deductive value”?	83
Q 3.10.1	When is deductive value used?	83
Q 3.10.2	What sales in the United States are used to determine deductive value?.....	83
Q 3.10.3	Can the circumstances of a sale disqualify it from use in determining deductive value?.....	84
Q 3.10.4	What sales price in the United States is used to calculate deductive value?.....	84
Q 3.10.5	How is the “unit price at which the merchandise is sold in the greatest aggregate quantity” calculated?	85
Q 3.10.6	What are the deductions from the unit price?	85
Q 3.10.7	What “commissions or profit and general expenses” are deductible?	86
Q 3.10.8	What transportation and insurance costs are deductible?	86

Q 3.10.9	What customs duties and taxes are deductible?	87
Q 3.10.10	What are the additions to the unit price?	87
Q 3.10.11	Are there any additional requirements for establishing “super deductive value”?	87
Computed Value		88
Q 3.11	What is “computed value”?	88
Q 3.11.1	When is computed value used?	88
Q 3.11.2	What materials, fabrication, and other processing costs are included in computed value?	88
Q 3.11.3	What profit and general expenses are included in computed value?	89
Q 3.11.4	What assists are included in computed value?	89
Q 3.11.5	What packing costs are included in computed value?	89
Q 3.11.6	Under what circumstances is computed value not determinable?	90
Value If Other Values Cannot Be Determined		90
Q 3.12	How is value determined if the other five bases cannot be determined or used?	90
Prohibited Bases of Valuation		91
Q 3.13	What methods of valuation are not allowed?	91
Allowances in Value		91
Q 3.14	When can allowances in dutiable value of merchandise be made?	91
